

You're Invited

To meet Dr. Robert Schalock

You are invited to learn more about the Quality of Life research project that BACI will participate in over the next year, and meet Dr. Robert Schalock, the international expert who developed the project.

This project will help us answer questions such as:

- Does the service we provide support individuals to move closer to meeting their goals and expectations?
- Are the people we serve more included in the community as a result of our involvement?

Dr. Schalock will be making TWO presentations on May 17 — one for self advocates in the afternoon, and one for families and support staff in the evening.

Who should attend: Self Advocates

When: Monday, May 17th — 1:00 pm to 3:00 pm

Where: Douglas College, New Westminster Campus
Room 1717—700 Royal Avenue, New Westminster

Who should attend: Families and Support Staff

When: Monday, May 17th — 7:00 pm to 9:00 pm

Where: Milieu Community Inclusion Services
15127 Fraser Highway, Surrey

Bob Schalock is Professor Emeritus at Hastings College (Nebraska) where he chaired the Psychology Department and directed the Cognitive Behavior Lab from 1967 to 2000. Bob has been involved in the field of developmental disabilities for the last 38 years.

Bob is a frequent speaker at national and international conferences, and has assisted a number of countries in their efforts to develop community-based programs for persons with intellectual disabilities — particularly focusing on the concept of Quality of Life.

For more information, or to attend this orientation session, please contact Leslee Madore at 604.299.7851 or leslee.madore@gobaci.com.

Supported by CLBC